

NEW PASSENGER TRAIN FOR CITY

Northwestern To Run Watersmeet "Scoot" Here Starting June 20

Rhineland business men will receive with pleasure the news that the Chicago & Northwestern railway company is to put on another passenger train into this city. Through the efforts of D. R. Lewis, S. B. Gary and O. A. Kolden, acting as a committee from the Rhinelander Advancement association, the company has agreed to run a train on the Watersmeet-Monico branch from Watersmeet to this city instead of to Monico as at present. The change will be made June 20th. This train will permit people living along the Watersmeet branch to come to this city, do shopping and return home within a few hours and will mean much to the merchants.

The following letter from Superintendent Quigley to B. R. Lewis is self explanatory:

Chicago & Northwestern Ry. Co.,
Superintendent's Office.
Antigo, Wis., May 3, 1915.
Mr. B. R. Lewis,
Rhineland, Wis.

Dear Sir:

Referring to the petition by yourself and others requesting that we run a train from Monico to Rhineland and return, connecting with our trains No. 12 and 13 from Watersmeet, daily except Sunday.

I am instructed to arrange to install this train with the making of our next time table, putting on summer service June 20th, same to be operated for a period of three months or until Sept. 20th. These three months to be a trial proposition.

I had advised you that we expected summer service would be put on the first week in June but our arrangement is for June 20. That will be about as early as there is any action.

SUNDAY, MAY 9 IS MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday, May 9, is Mother's Day and already plans are being made for the observance of this occasion. The slogan adopted for the day is "The Best Mother Who Ever Lived," and the emblem of the day is a white carnation. The second Sunday in May has been set as the time of its observance.

On May 10, 1913, a special resolution was passed by the United States congress and senate recommending the observance of Mother's Day. Its object is an international and simultaneous observance of the well being and honor of the home. It is to be observed with some distinct act of kindness, visit, letter, gift or tribute showing the remembrance of the mother and father of the home to whom much affection is due. Mother's Day is just as truly Father's Day and is designed to strengthen the family ties.

As the second Sunday in May has been set as the date for the observance of Mother's Day, in churches all over the country programs of an appropriate nature are preparing in recognition of this day. The music is appropriate to such an occasion and the sermons are fitting. In many places the schools observe the day on Friday and business and other organizations on Saturday preceding the second Sunday of May.

An international organization has been formed to promote and encourage the observance of Mother's Day in all civilized countries. In the United States ex-presidents Roosevelt and Taft and President Wilson are honorary national officers of the association.

LONG DEBAUCH ENDS IN DEATH

Thomas Mack, a camp blacksmith, well known among woodsmen, died suddenly Friday morning in Haas saloon near Lake Julia. Death was probably due to heart failure caused by excessive drinking. He was known to have been on a debauch the close of the winter. Friday morning while in the Haas saloon he was said to have complained of unwell and while resting he asked for a bottle of beer. He scarcely pressed the bottle to his lips when with a gasp he fell back and expired.

Haas, proprietor of the saloon, immediately notified the coroner of the man's death and Charles Decanter had the body removed to this city. All information regarding the deceased proved to be correct. He had worked as a blacksmith in one of the lumber camps. Only a few days before he was found in his clothing was shipped by F. A. and to Wisconsin University Friday night where at the expiration of sixty days it will be placed on a dissecting table.

MEMBERS OF SWEDISH CHURCH

Services in the Swedish church were held last Sunday by Rev. Silfversten. The service was held at 10 o'clock and both at morning and evening. The ladies aid society held a monthly meeting at 8 p. m. The ladies league meets at 8 p. m. The confirmation class has been held both English and Swedish services are used.

Carl J. Silfversten will be in the city next Sunday.

Futahl is spending the week in Rhineland and Milwaukee.

RHINELANDER IN NEED OF FIFTY NEW HOUSES

Lack Of Suitable Homes Is a Draw-back To the Growth Of This City

"Rhineland," declared a leading business man, "could today use at least fifty additional houses. I mean well designed, well built houses, to make homes of." Other business men speak in much the same manner, declaring that the present condition in Rhineland affords an unusual opportunity for some investor, not one, however, realizes that the duties and opportunities mentioned is the duty of every good citizen of this city.

A new inspiration is entering the life of our city. It is the inspiration to do and dare, to design, create, and develop our beautiful city. We are trying to get new citizens, new settlers, new factories. We are trying to advertise our city as a place to live in and to this end we are succeeding. Numerous calls for houses have been made in the past few weeks, but not one to be had. A certain business man told a writer that he could rent a number of houses if they were to be had. Houses that will rent from $15.00 to $25.00 a month are in great demand.

This is no dream. The man knew what he was talking about. It is a well known fact by most of the citizens of Rhineland that there is and has been in the past a shortage of houses to rent and this is the opinion of many of our leading citizens that building houses for rent at this time would be a good investment from a financial standpoint as well as the standpoint of giving our city a chance to grow.

The citizens would be directly or indirectly benefited. Traveling men have expressed themselves as wanting to live here, but because they could not get a house they were compelled to live in some other city. They preferred Rhineland, because of its railroad connections, which allow them to come home once a week, and where they live at the present time, they can only reach their home once in every four weeks. Other people have been attracted to our city by the efforts of this association, but could find no houses to live in and were compelled to go to some other city, or stay where they were. One man came here from Iowa to make this city his home, and desired to rent a house for a while until he could get a location that would suit him to build, but there being no house to rent he was compelled to return.

It is a well known fact, that it has kept many families from locating here. If Rhineland is to grow and prosper, homes must be provided for people desiring to locate here.

Why Not Do It Now
Not merely as a philanthropic plan to help the much needed work, but as a proposition of cold-blooded business.

Why Not Build Now

Regarding Rome
Rome once upon her seven hills
Sent out her troops and spanked the world.

Put other lands between the hills,
On every sea her flag unfurled.
And I'm for Julius Caesar now,
Although that gentleman is dead,
Because of such a life he led,
That topped the price in every row.

J. Caesar put Rome on the map.
He advertised it near and far:
He mixed in every kind of scrap—
At boosting Julius was a star.
He talked about it when at home,
He bragged about it when away.
Until from Britain to Cathay
They heard about the town of Rome.
I wish we had some Romans here,
The regular, stem-winder kind
Who'd whoop it up through all the year

And leave the other towns behind.
I wish we had some Caesar, too,
This good old town to advertise
Until it grew to twice the size
With brotherhood as thick as glue.
Let's get together, you and I;
We've got a town that's worth the while;

Let's open up, emit a cry
That other folks can hear a mile.
Let's talk about this burg so dear
Until it gets so big a thing
They'll run excursion trains to bring
The folks who want to settle here.

FORMER PRIEST HERE IS DEAD

Rev. Nicholas July, who left Rhineland twenty years ago after serving several years as pastor of St. Mary's church, died Saturday afternoon in St. Mary's hospital, Milwaukee. He had been ill but a few days, having undergone an operation for appendicitis last Thursday. He was secretary to Archbishop S. G. Messmer.

The Rev. July was ordained a priest more than forty-five years ago. He was formerly pastor of the Green Bay diocese and previous to going to Milwaukee a short time ago was chaplain of St. Michael's hospital in Stevens Point. He had held pastorates in Stevens Point, Rhineland, Stockbridge and other cities in the Green Bay diocese.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning from the Cathedral in Green Bay and the remains were laid to rest in that city.

O. E. WOOD DIES; ILL 18 MONTHS

The many friends in Rhineland of Oren E. Wood, who at one time conducted a business college in this city, will be sorry to learn of his death which occurred Thursday last at his home in Stevens Point. Mr. Wood had been in ill health ever since the fall of 1913 when he suffered a protracted attack of pneumonia.

The following obituary of Mr. Wood appeared in the Stevens Point Journal:

Oren E. Wood was born in Dover, near Rochester, Minnesota, thirty-seven years ago last December 17. He was only about one year of age when he was brought by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Wood, to the town of Almond, this county, where he passed his youth and young manhood and attended the district schools. In 1894, when the Stevens Point Normal was first opened, he enrolled as a student, but after a year at that institution he withdrew and taught in rural schools throughout the county. He returned to the Normal in the fall of 1902 and in the following June was graduated from the elementary course. After this he was principal of the Hancock school system for five years. Again giving up the teaching profession he took a course in the Wausau Business college, fitting himself for the establishment of a commercial school at Rhineland, which he conducted successfully until May, 1911, when he took possession of the Stevens Point Business college, which he purchased from F. F. Showers, now of Delavan. He enlarged the scope and increased the efficiency of the school, which, under his management, took a leading place in its field, and gave his affairs his personal and unceasing attention until the condition of his health interfered.

Mr. Wood was a man who, first of all, impressed every acquaintance by the fineness of his character. His principles and ideals were of the highest kind and his uplifting influence was a power for good. His personality was attractive, and it was through this and his perceptive ability and initiative that he was successful in his educational work. He was a member of St. Paul's M. E. church, which he served as trustee, and for ten years was a Mason. He became affiliated with Evergreen lodge No. 93, F. & A. M., in this city on January 2, 1912.

Mr. Wood was married to Miss Luella Berto of Amherst in 1903 and she, with two children, Katherine, aged twelve, and Earl, aged eight, survive. He also leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Wood of Almond; two brothers, Milton G. New Holstein, and Ira D. Antigo, and two sisters, Mrs. F. R. Springer, Almond, and Mrs. F. A. Mehne, Duluth, Minnesota.

COUNCIL HOLDS BUSY MEETING

Power Company's Proposition for Pumping Water Referred to Committee

All members were present at the May meeting of the common council Tuesday night and considerable business was transacted. The proposition of the Rhineland Power Company to pump water by electricity at the city pumping station was referred to a committee for investigation. The power company proposes to install a motor driven pump, capable of pumping 700 gallons per minute under ordinary pressure, at a cost of $1250, payments to be made in monthly installments of $350.

L. E. Keller's bid to do city sprinkling, furnishing team and man for $1 per day was referred, to board of public works. The council granted W. D. Joslin right of free use of city water for sprinkling purposes upon his offer to sprinkle free all cross walks and fronts of vacant lots along principal streets. Bids of the Rhineland Publishing Co., and the New North Printing Co., for city printing was referred to printing committee to be awarded as they see fit.

The ordinance relating to licensing peddlers and transient merchants was passed. Permission was granted board of public works to expend $150 to permanently surface two blocks of macadam on Brown street. The matter of providing new street signs for the city was turned over to the board of public works.

Petitions were submitted for improvements on Birch street, the laying of an 8 inch sewer on Wabasha street and for an electric light on Margaret and Itasca street.

Mayor Anderle appointed two members on the board of health, Aldermen Swedberg and McDermott. Action was taken on the usual monthly batch of bills.

Pupils of the 7th and 8th grades attended the council meeting Tuesday night and seemed to manifest great interest in the proceedings.

COMPANY L GOES TO CAMP JULY 17

Advanced Field Work Will Be Taken Up By Second Infantry

July 17 to 23 are the dates set for the annual encampment at Camp Douglas of the Second Infantry, W. N. G., of which Company L of this city is a part. From Appleton, the headquarters of the Second Infantry, it is announced that the field work to be taken up this year will be more advanced than ever before and no man will be permitted to go to camp who was not enlisted at least sixty days before.

The novel part of the encampment is that the last two days will be devoted to rifle work on the part of twelve men from each company. On Thursday noon of the encampment twelve officers or men, to be designated by each captain, will be detached from the regiment and form a rifle camp. They will be located on a different site from the balance of the regiment. As far as possible the twelve high men in each company will be selected. They will shoot Friday and Saturday for the various prizes and distinguished marksman's decorations. There will be no other rifle camp except that for the training of the team which is to enter the national match in Florida.

BOARD ORGANIZES

The city board of education organized for the coming year Monday evening with Alex Sutton, president, E. O. Brown, vice president; and Robert O. Robertson, clerk. Committees will be named later.

Miss E. Scott was here from Woodruff Wednesday doing shopping.

FALLS 30 FEET; ESCAPES UNHURT

To fall thirty feet from the top of a building, crash through a wooden platform and strike the ground below uninjured except for a few slight bruises, was the remarkable experience of El S. Dillenbeck in this city last Thursday evening.

Dillenbeck fell from the roof of the building on Stevens street occupied by Taylor's billiard hall. He went through a landing fifteen feet below and then fell another fifteen feet, striking a painter's cart before he hit terra firma.

Spectators who witnessed Dillenbeck's involuntary high dive expected he would be badly hurt or perhaps killed, but much to their surprise he quickly got up, brushed the dust from his clothes, lighted a cigarette and walked away.

ATTEND MERRILL WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hart attended the wedding of Miss Rebecca Savitsky of Merrill to Mr. Nathan Konefsky of Chicago in Merrill Sunday afternoon. Rabbi Edelson of Oshkosh performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Taggart of Rothschild are in the city, having been called here by the illness of her father, J. G. Dunn.

WILL OPEN NEW BUILDING PLAT

Charles A. Conro announces that he is about to plat off the east end of mill lot E on Thayer street which will make choice building lots. This is a most desirable location for homes, and in fact is the only remaining unplatted portion of Rhineland available for a residence section. It is centrally located and has other advantages which home builders will be quick to perceive.

The plat can be seen by consulting Mr. Conro who can be found in his office on Stevens street.

THREE ELK LEFT

Three elk are all that are left of the thirty brought from Wyoming to the state game farm at Trout Lake, states a press report. One deer was found infected with disease and the state veterinarian's department has been called upon to save the farm's supply of wild animals from extinction. The Northern Pacific road, on which line in Montana, the elk suffered injuries, has offered to remit the freight charges, but state Game Warden Shotts has refused to accept their settlement and damages are being sought.

Attorney E. D. Minahan went to Antigo Wednesday.

“Get Up” and Get

Don't you back up or stop until you've tried STANDARD. It's the one perfect tobacco for the big, two-fisted, out-of-doors man who wants a rich, full-bodied tobacco to tuck into his pipe.

You get hold of STANDARD. Note its rich, natural sweetness—just the pure Kentucky leaf, aged naturally and slowly for three to five years, to bring out all its mellow fragrance and flavor. STANDARD has the genuine snap and taste that you want in tobacco.

STANDARD Long Cut Tobacco

was carefully made up, fifty years ago, for the sturdy man who is hungry for man's size tobacco. Fifty years have come and gone and all sorts of brands have tried to beat out STANDARD, but the old he-boy is still the king-brand of them all.

Nothing fancy about the STANDARD package—we put all the cost into the tobacco. As you say of a horse, "he's all horse"—so we say of STANDARD—"it's all tobacco."

Hitch up with STANDARD for a week's trial, and you and STANDARD will always pull together like a well-matched team.

Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

Other sizes, 10c, 15c, 30c and 35c Packages.

VISITING NURSE EXAMINES PUPILS

Prompt Attention Given To Physical Defects In School Children

Report of the Visiting Nurse Association for the months of March and April:

Number of cases on list March 1. 7; new cases reported 8, total number of cases 15; work cases 3, investigation 4, instruction 8, total number of visits made 177. Work visits 27, investigation 51, instruction 24 doctors 20, schools 45. Total number of baths given 12, alcohol or oil rubs 11, minor dressings done 0, other treatments 3, cases requiring material aid 4.

Cases were reported to the V. N. A. from sources as follows: Family 2, nurse 1, school 3, neighbor 1, county 1.

Diagnosis of cases: Tuberculosis 3 neck 4, tuberculosis suspected 2. One each as follows: wailing mania, malnutrition, varicose veins, skin, paralysis, and no diagnosis.

Results: Cases dismissed as recovered 1, improved 1, with instructions 2, sent to hospital 3, died 1, remaining on list May 1st, 7.

The work in the past two months has been almost entirely devoted to the examination of the school children, and there have been fewer baths, fewer rubs or treatments of any kind than at any time since the beginning of the visiting nurse work three years ago.

We hope that before the end of the school year that each and every child in the public schools will have been thoroughly examined for defective eyes, ears, nose, throat, and teeth. This examination does not mean that, if the child is found defective in any way, he is compelled to undergo an operation, or even to place himself under the care of his physician. But it does mean getting closer to the school child, doing in individual work, along the line of health improvement, and coming into closer relation with the child's home and environment, bring the parents to a fuller realization of conditions that exist in the child, and to a better understanding of the reasons why the child's health should be attended to at once.

Much individual work has been done and we are beginning to see results, in the cleanliness and tidiness of the children at school in the care of teeth, and in many instances, in the prompt attention to physical defects by consulting a physician as soon as possible after the defect has been made evident.

To help this work along the three local dentists have kindly agreed to give two hours of each week during the month of May, to the FREE examination of the teeth of all school children, including high school pupils. Dr. Keith will be glad to meet the children on Mondays from four to six o'clock p. m. Dr. McArthur on Thursdays at the same hour, and Dr. McIndoe on Wednesdays at the same hour. There will be no treatments of the teeth during those hours but any pupil may make his own appointment with his own dentist for treatment. Those who can not pay for the necessary treatments may make special arrangement or consultation with the Visiting Nurse.

We are hoping for good results from this work, and believe it will mean better care of the teeth, more prompt attention to defects in the future, and we hope it will mean eventually a permanent dental inspection in the Rhinelander public schools.

Respectfully submitted,
N. J. BING.

That crow's feet and wrinkles in a woman's face are not so much a sign of age as they are indications of a lack of control over appetite, worry and temper.

That no woman can hope to be as attractive to her husband after marriage as she has been before unless she continues to make herself pleasing in the sight of other men.

That the woman who has taken such care of herself that she is mistaken by strangers for the elder sister of her daughter has her reward, and cannot be made to think that she has labored in vain.

Some Marvelous Exhibits at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition

Exhibits in Agricultural Palace at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Show Caterpillar Gaining Favor Over Lug-Wheeler Tractors in Farm Machinery.

An observer in the Agricultural Palace at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco cannot help noticing, in the display of agricultural power machinery, the almost complete supersession of the new design of power tractor, known as the caterpillar, over the cumbersome, unstable, high-wheeled engine of a few years ago. There are few of the old models on exhibition, while the caterpillar principle has been applied to almost every type of engine for agricultural purposes.

The caterpillar proper is a heavy sheet metal chain, varying in width from ten inches to two feet according to the weight of the engine, which passes around two heavy sprocket wheels like a belt. These wheels revolving, pass the chain about them, the lower part moving backward, with the weight of the engine resting on the broad surface of the chain between the two sprockets.

An engine of this type can be operated on ground soft enough to mire an ordinary farm wagon.

Duplicates of the Roosevelt African Shotgun.

A duplicate of the shotgun which Col. Theodore Roosevelt took with him on his African trip, a gun constructed expressly for him by an American armorer, is on display at the manufacturer's exhibit in the Manufacturer's Palace at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. The gun cost its illustrious owner $350, and its beautiful design, graceful lines and wonderful inlay work would justify the expenditure to any lover of fine pieces. The stock is elaborately hand carved, the barrels and lock are hand engraved, and the lock is inlaid with a hunting scene in gold. The barrels are of the finest Krupp steel. Before starting on the trip the ex-president wrote to the maker: "I really think it is the most beautiful gun I have ever seen. I am almost ashamed to take it to Africa and subject it to the rough treatment it will receive."

The left barrel is choked and the right open. It is cored to shoot either buckshot or a single ball.

In a group in this Palace are displays by four of the world's greatest manufacturers of sporting arms, which form an exhibit which attracts hundreds of sportsmen. Each display is in charge of a firearms expert.

Pearl Culture a New Industry.

Among the interesting exhibits of the Japanese in the Manufacturer's Palace at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is a demonstration of the methods and results of pearl cultivation in the far East. The displays of this cultivated product, showing hundreds of pearls which until pearl culture was placed on a commercial basis a few years ago would have been the possessions of royalty, will delight any lover of beautiful gems, and the methods of production will prove interesting to any observer. Though pearl culture has become a thriving industry in Japan, attempts to reproduce it in other parts of the world have yielded but meager results.

The successful method of propagation was evolved by the Japanese scientist Kokichi Mikimoto, who discovered a species of oyster which produced the pearl on the surface of the shell. Though the finding of the oysters and inserting the nuclei, then waiting for the pearl to grow to a commercial size may seem a simple process, the fact that it has not reduced the price of the gems, even to that of the most expensive imitations, shows that it is beset with many difficulties.

Daniel Webster's Plow at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

One of the most valuable exhibits commercially, in the Agricultural Palace at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, is an ancient plow displayed in the Massachusetts exhibit, and forming a striking contrast to the highly-complex modern machinery displayed on the acreage of four about it.

The plow owes its distinction to the circumstance that a hundred years ago Daniel Webster's youthful hands guided it along the furrows of his father's farm near Marshfield, Mass. It was drawn by a yoke of oxen and if the future peer of American orators and statesmen could turn an acre of sod a day he had to work from daylight to dark.

The photograph shows the belle of the interesting Samoan village at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco. The structures in this village, comprising the native thatched huts of the Samoan, or as they were formerly called, the Navigator Islands, were brought intact from the native villages and are absolutely faithful in all their features. There are many native families living in the village who for the edification of visitors perform the aquatic feats in which the islanders excel, and dance the rhythmic native dances. The life of the people of the Pacific Ocean is wonderfully illustrated at the Exposition, and of all the races none are more interesting than the Samoans who exhibit many traces of Aryan descent. No Exposition visitor should fail to see these unique tribespeople.

STRATEGY OF A WIDOW

By GEORGE MUNSON.

"That Miss Elsie Davis is a charming girl and I congratulate you highly, Mr. Norton," said Mrs. Benton. "But what a pity that she seems so jealous." Warren Norton flushed deeply. He resented Mrs. Benton's words, but he knew that they were true.

Elsie and her mother were summering at the Glen Pass hotel, and Warren Norton was spending his vacation there.

That evening Mrs. Benton made overtures to Elsie, who had regarded her with sullen aversion from the moment of their introduction. However, the accomplished woman of the world soon managed to thaw the heart of the undisciplined, inexperienced girl.

"Yes, Warren is a dear boy," she said, "but like most men, I am afraid." "What do you mean by that?" demanded Elsie, frowning at once on John's behalf.

"I mean, dear, that a pretty face would turn his head. A man's heart may be loyal, but the best of them cannot resist passing attraction."

"It is not true!" cried Elsie, turning scarlet.

"Unfortunately it is true, my dear," replied the widow, laying one hand caressingly upon her arm. "It is only too true, and I can prove it to you."

"How?" demanded Elsie.

"By bringing your Warren to my feet within two days," Mrs. Benton answered.

"You can't do it," cried Elsie scornfully. "But I will let you try, Mrs. Benton, and, if you succeed, I will have nothing more to do with Warren."

The next few days were wretched ones for Elsie. True, Mrs. Benton did not succeed within the period that she had allotted herself, but it was evident that Warren was strongly infatuated with her. There were angry scenes between the engaged couple. To Elsie's astonishment Warren, who had always been so penitent and self-explanatory on former occasions, now appeared brazen.

"Elsie, Mrs. Benton is the sister of John Benton in the Philippines," he said. "I have told you often how John is my best friend. We have not seen each other for years, and it is natural that I should like his sister. Come, be friendly with her, Elsie, and let us all be happy together."

"O, I hate her and I hate you!" exclaimed the jealous girl; and, pulling off her ring, she flung it upon the table.

Elsie was not the type of girl who dominates over her mother. The elder woman had seen how things were going; perhaps she thought that Warren was giving Elsie a lesson, for she offered no consolation when Elsie announced that the engagement was broken off and that they would start home on the morrow.

Elsie did not go down to dinner that night. But afterwards a feverish desire to see Warren again forced her to dress and go downstairs. She knew he was with that odious Benton woman, and she could not go away without torturing herself by seeing them together.

Poor Elsie reached the veranda just in time to see the couple disappearing together along the most secluded of the many beautiful walks of the Glen Pass. They were walking slowly side by side, and it was evident they did not dream that Elsie was anywhere near them.

At the end of the walk was a hedge of box, round which the road wound into a pretty little summer house. Taking her stand behind the hedge, Elsie heard the conversation.

"Poor Elsie!" said Warren in a low voice.

"Poor Elsie!" said Mrs. Benton in a very meaning one, and Elsie, standing behind the hedge, set her teeth hard. To be pitied was the last thing that she could endure.

"I feel guilty of disloyalty to her in having permitted you to plan this, Mrs. Benton," said Warren.

"My dear boy, it is the best thing in the world for her," replied the elder woman. "A sharp lesson was necessary, and as the sister of your best friend, I feel that it is my duty to give her that lesson."

"She thinks I am in love with you," said Warren.

Mrs. Benton laughed merrily. "When my dance, Mr. Boyd, arrives tomorrow she will be undeceived," she said. "Now, Warren, a word of advice. I am going to tell her that it was all a plan of mine in order to bring her to reason and cure her absurd jealousy. You stay there till I come back, and I shall bring her with me."

And she stepped off along another path toward the hotel, while Elsie heard herself sob in the darkness.

What a fool she had been! She saw it now, she remembered all Warren's misery in the past, caused by her doubts of him. She was not worthy of him. She—

Suddenly she felt two arms about her. Very miserably she raised her head. Warren stood beside her.

"Elsie! You heard!" he cried. "O, what a fool I have been!" she said. "What a wretched jealous fool I deserved this, Warren, to teach me to trust the man I love. Do you really love me, Warren?"

Warren slipped the ring on her finger again. And in the consciousness of their new-born trust they were so absorbed in each other that kindly Mrs. Benton, approaching in the darkness, took a by-path back to the hotel instead.

A KITE AND A CURL

By ROSE MILLER.

Professor Irving and his small son were constructing a magnificent kite in the cool shade of the orchard trees. "Now, son, our kite is finished all but the tail—we need something bright and gayway for the end of our tail—suppose you go up to the house and ask Mrs. Keppy for a bit of red ribbon or tape or something."

Sammy darted away among the trees, dodged under the fence and made a detour through the hayfield.

Professor Irving whistled over his task, and when it was completed he threw himself back on the grass and, pipe in mouth, dreamily watched the clouds.

"I have got a flyaway, daddy," announced Sammy's voice.

Professor Irving sat up, yawned, and in the very act paused with his mouth wide open. He stared at the trophy in Sammy's grimy hand.

"What is that?" he thundered at last.

"It's a pretty curl—er, flyaway, daddy."

"Where did you get it?" sternly. "I found it!" evasively.

"Where?" "Garden!"

"Well, of all the amazing things!" commented his father, taking the long sliken curl that clung to his fingers in the most annoying manner.

He smiled as he folded the curl carefully and tucked it into his notebook.

Here was a peppery tempered voice indeed. The professor turned mild eyes upon the speaker.

She had advanced upon them from behind the trees, and she was a veritable Goldilocks, albeit her hair was a shower of red golden curls that hung far below her waist. She wore a faded lawn frock, and about her neck was tied a huge bath towel.

Professor Irving, had struggled to his feet, his puzzled face partaking of the embarrassment that clouded his son's.

"What do you mean?" he asked. "That!" she pointed tragically to the curl.

Slowly Sammy's father opened the book, took out the dainty sliken curl and regarded it with bewildered eyes.

"My curl, if you please!" she demanded laughingly.

"I am very sorry for what Sammy has done," said the professor gently. "You see, we have been making a kite, and I sent him up to ask my house-keeper for a bit of ribbon for the end of the tail—we needed a gay flyaway. He brought this back. He said he found it in the garden."

"Sammy found it in the garden, but not in his own garden," said the girl with eyes suddenly brimming with laughter. "I had been washing my hair and was drying it in the rectory garden. I was sitting on the grass, sewing, when suddenly I missed my scissors. Just as I turned to search for them I felt a tug and heard a snipping sound—and Sammy was running away with one of my curls!"

Sammy howled lustily and burrowed his head under his father's arm.

"Never mind, Sammy," she said at last. "I am sure you didn't mean to do a naughty thing. If you will come with me I will find you a bright ribbon for a flyaway."

Sammy smiled at Goldilocks and tucked his hand in hers.

"I will send him home soon," she smiled. Then she turned and added: "I am the rector's niece, Miss Allen."

She went away with Sammy, and when the two had disappeared among the trees the professor still stood there staring after them, with the red-gold curl twining around his fingers, as the image of its owner was entwining itself about his heart.

And the professor neglected to return that curl to Rose Allen. In fact, he kept it always. "For," said he afterward, "a man may keep a curl of his wife's hair!"

"Even if he doesn't use it as a flyaway," added Rose, as she hugged little Sammy.

Those Pestiferous Sparrows.

Mr. Dearborn says the English sparrow reduces the number of some of our most useful and attractive native birds, such as bluebirds, house wrens, purple martins, tree swallows, cliff swallows and barn swallows, by destroying their eggs and young and by usurping their nesting places. It attacks the robin, wren, redbird, vireo, catbird and mockingbird, causing them to desert parks and shady streets of towns. Unlike our native birds, whose place it usurps, it has no song, but is noisy and piteous.

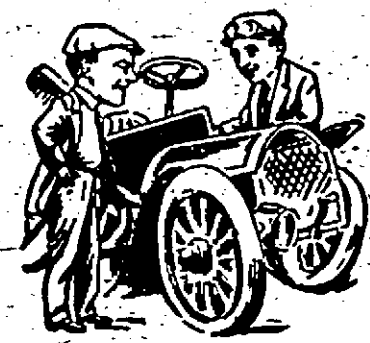

It defiles buildings and ornamental trees, shrubs and vines with its excrement and with its bulky nests.

Original Turnpike.

It was formerly the custom to obtain the funds to maintain principal thoroughfares by collecting a toll from those using them. Pikes or gates were set across the roads by the keeper or toll collector.

To prevent people who traveled his road from passing without paying the toll he was armed with a pike, a long-handled stick with a sharp iron head. This was put across as a barrier, and when the toll was paid it was turned aside to permit the carriage or wagon to pass on its way. Hence the name turnpike.

Radium Used to Promote Plant Growth.

Some of the remarkable properties of radium are being demonstrated by an exhibitor in the Liberal Arts building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, in connection with a new invention making possible the radiofying of water for medicinal purposes.

Demonstrating the power of this mineral promoting metabolism a number of young plants, some existing with and some without the aid of radium, are shown. Those in the radioactive soils are seen to be growing much more rapidly than those in common soil, and to have a more healthy appearance.

This inventor has found a process of impregnating terra cotta bricks with radium-bearing minerals, and these small bricks placed in water are said to give it remarkable curative properties. The porous bricks last almost indefinitely, losing only half their potency, it is estimated, in 1,500 years.

Since the discovery of this mineral it has been found that many celebrated waters, as Carlsbad and Baden Baden, owe their health-giving properties to radium. The inventor claims that his process produces in ordinary waters the qualities of these famous springs.

The radium ore used in the manufacture of radioactive terra cotta is known as carnotite, a formation found mainly in Colorado and Utah, and now producing three-fourths of the world's radium. The European mineral, known as pitchblende, from which the famous European springs are impregnated, is also displayed.

Most Rapid Photographs Ever Taken.

The most remarkable set of speed photographs ever taken are a part of the war department's exhibit in Machinery Hall at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. They are pictures of a shell from a 12-inch coast defense gun in flight, the set including the various phases of the flight beginning just as the great projectile pokes its nose out of the muzzle of the gun.

The pictures were taken with a lens having an exposure period of one five-thousandth of a second, this being the fastest shutter ever manufactured. The exposure at the proper time in the flight of the projectile was made by breaking an electric circuit in a wire stretched across the trajectory at the desired point and connecting with the shutter.

One picture shows the shell half-way out of the muzzle before any smoke and gas has escaped. Another was taken when the shell was two feet from the muzzle but hidden by a heavy ring of smoke. A third shows the shell in flight a hundred feet from the muzzle. The photographs are so perfect and the exposure so rapid that scarcely any blur is perceptible. They were taken at Fort Monroe, Va., under the direction of Capt. F. J. Behl of the coast artillery corps and head of the department of enlisted specialists at the Coast Artillery school at Fort Monroe.

Alright Rubber Cork.

A stopper for bottles that is especially valuable for travelers consists of a solid rubber cork that goes down into the neck of the bottle, and a circular collar of soft rubber rising from the top of the cork. When the cork is driven home this collar is turned down over and outside the neck, which it makes watertight and airtight. The solid cork and the flexible collar are all in one piece.

Ingenious Youngster.

A little boy came near getting a good spanking for answering his father in a pert way, but escaped by saying: "When you were a small boy, dad, didn't you ever get excited and say the wrong thing?"

TAYLOR'S CRANDON FACTORY

Arthur Taylor of Rhinelander, passed Sunday in Crandon. Mr. Taylor is getting his Crandon Bottling Works in shape to manufacture and bottle many different kinds of soft drinks, which will be delivered to dealers in Crandon and adjoining towns. The people of Forest county are great consumers of these soft drinks, and we think Mr. Taylor will do a good business here right from the start.

Arthur Taylor has purchased a cotton truck of the Menominee make, through their agent Sidney Raymond. The vehicle will be used in transporting Mr. Taylor's soft drinks about Forest county.—Crandon Republican.

It's the Know How

That Makes Our Glasses Fit

It is no trouble for us to test your eyes, and can do so in the evening as well as during the day, and you will find our charges very reasonable.

We solicit complicated cases as well as simple ones and have all the latest instruments for obtaining positive results.

There is satisfaction in wearing glasses when you have the proper correction. The tense required in your particular case is more—no less—exactly right.

Accuracy is our strong point. Every pair of glasses that we fit, must be precisely right, to satisfy us, and you.

It is a hobby with us, but we think it pays. It will pay you big dividends in comfort, it pays others. Come in today, or soon as possible.

Advertising is good business and results in good business.

About time to begin saving money toward that summer vacation.

If you are not boosting for Rhinelander get busy at once.

Perhaps the legislature will adjourn before the Christmas holidays and perhaps not.

Who says this is not a prosperous town? Just count up the number of autos owned here.

Friday is Arbor and Bird Day. Good time to do a little tree planting and beautify your property.

J. J. Remo's new lake map is one of the best advertisements for Rhinelander and Oneida county gotten cut in some time. Watch for results.

Rhinelander merchants are reaping the benefits of that new sign way to the western part of the county judging by the large number of farmers from that section who come here to trade.

The United States can never hope to bring about peace in Europe as long as it ships guns and ammunition to the warring nations. In the face of the fact that many big American firms are thus lending their aid toward continuance of the slaughter this peace talk sounds somewhat amusing.

Fifty new houses for renting purposes are needed in Rhinelander. Many people who desire to become residents of this city are unable to do so because it is impossible for them to obtain suitable dwellings. This is becoming a serious matter and should be given deep consideration. Build a House is an appropriate slogan at the present time.

The death of O. E. Wood in Stevens Point last Thursday has filled with sorrow the hearts of the gentleman's many friends in Rhinelander. Mr. Wood established the business college in this city and no man ever lived here who commanded more respect than he. His principles and ideals were of the highest and his influence over his fellow men was most elevating. He was loved by all who knew him and especially was this so among his pupils to whom he was both a true friend and painstaking teacher.

BET EVEN ON PEACE

Betting on the outcome of the war is all the rage in London now. Several firms and individuals, through Lloyd's Exchange, have on board today, the following "book" on the duration of hostilities:

- That war will end before June 1 1915—2 to 1 against.
- That war will end before September 1, 1915—even money.
- That war will end before December 1, 1915—10 to 1 on.
- That war will end before March 1 1916—115 to 1 on.
- That Germany will take Paris—25 to 1 against.
- That Germany will take Warsaw—5 to 1 against.

BOY LOSES LEG

In attempting to board a Northwestern freight train at Menisco late Tuesday night Antonio Turcheon, age 17, fell under the wheels and his left leg was so badly mangled that amputation was necessary. He was rushed to the hospital here on a special train. Drs. McIndoe and Garner performed the operation, removing the leg just above the knee. Turcheon's home is in Chicago.

ACTOR FINED $23

For the theft of a fountain pen and ruler from the store of E. P. Laugesen Friday afternoon, William Beahm, who claims to be a vaudeville performer, was fined $23 and costs in Judge Smith's court. Beahm and a companion entered the store to make some purchases and after their departure the articles were missed from Mr. Laugesen's desk. Mr. Laugesen and Chief Straub traced Beahm to the store of Hans Rodd where he was caught "with the goods on."

TO TEACHERS

All teachers wishing to write on one or more branches either to raise their standings or obtain a new certificate are requested to notify me at once. An examination will be held at the Training School Friday and Saturday, May 21st and 22nd, for any who wish to write. The regular examination will be held in August after the close of the Normal summer school.

F. A. LOWELL,
County Superintendent.

COMMENCEMENT BEGINS MAY 23

The commencement season of 1915 was opened on Friday night last by a reception given by the juniors to the seniors and the faculty. The affair occurred at gymnasium which was very prettily decorated for the occasion in the school colors, green and white.

The exercises of commencement week begin with the address to graduates which will be given by Father Gray at St. Augustine's church, Sunday evening, May 23. On Wednesday and Thursday of that week the manual arts exhibit will be open at the high school.

On Thursday night the class play "What Happened to Jones," will be presented by the senior class. Class night exercises follow on Friday, at which time occurs the presentation of diplomas by W. P. Colburn, Supt.

The class graduating from the local high school this year is much the largest in the history of the school; it numbers forty-nine members. The largest previous class was that which finished in 1913, in which there were thirty-four.

No efforts are being spared to make the public exercises interesting. It is hoped that all patrons of the school will set aside the week of graduation and spend it in enjoying with the class of 1915 the last events of their high school life.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Failure of the reverse lever to work properly caused the automobile driven by Dr. Wendell Smith to turn completely over on the Robbins road late Saturday afternoon. Dr. Smith and his daughter, Miss Eva, only occupants of the car, were injured but not seriously. The doctor was hurt about the hips and is now able to get about on crutches. The young lady's injuries were of little consequence.

The car, a Ford, was not badly damaged and is again in commission.

DRIVER KILLED

Japanese Woman Pearl Diver.

For centuries past one of the curious customs of Japan has been the employment of woman as divers in the pearl industry. Formerly whole families became divers, but later the prerogative became more and more that of the women until now fully ninety per cent of Japanese pearls are gathered by Japanese women divers. A movement begun several years ago to replace them with men has been opposed bitterly by the women.

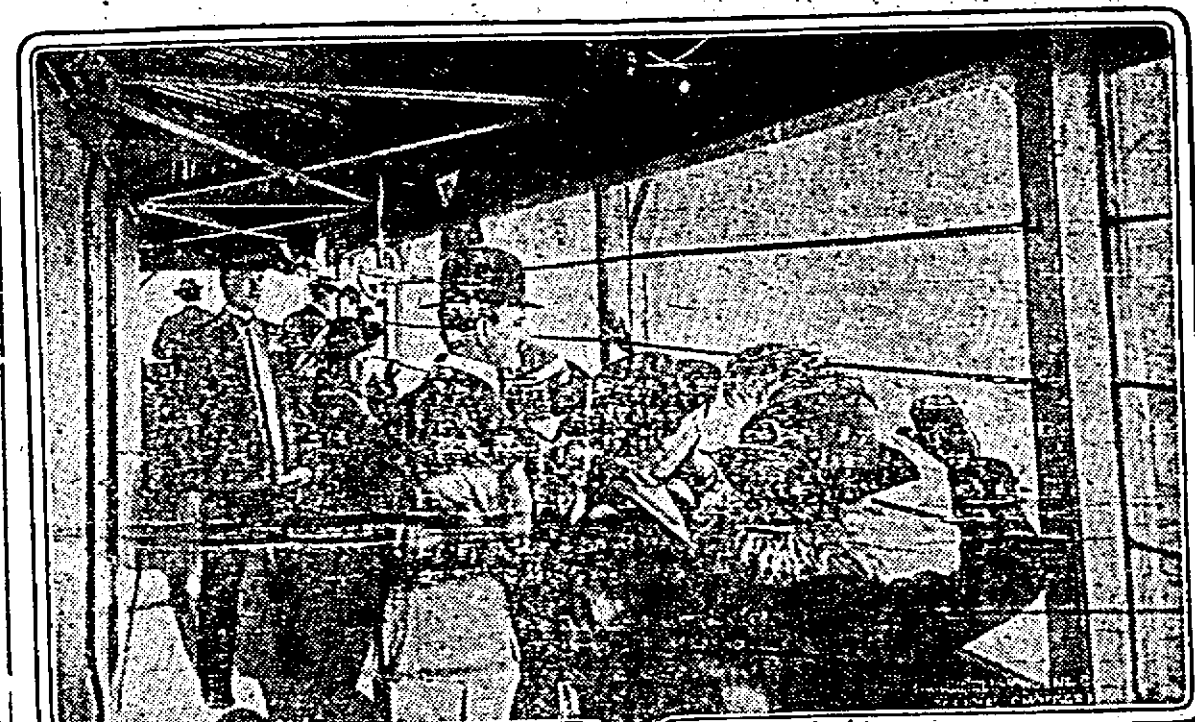

Quite Portable.

A man who had taken an interest in the "back to the land" movement and had gone so far as to invest in a bungalow met a friend who was anxious to know how he had made out. THE WONDERFUL AEROSCOPE, HIGHER THAN THE FERRIS WHEEL, GIVES VISITORS MARVELOUS VIEW OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST EXPOSITION

VISITORS ON THE AEROSCOPE 265 FEET ABOVE THE EARTH

THE GIANT FRAME OF THE AEROSCOPE AS IT APPEARED UNDER CONSTRUCTION

For the seeker of amusements, there is opportunity aplenty in the unique mechanical achievement, the Aeroscope, on "The Zone," at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The Aeroscope resembles a giant crane of a novel and intricate design, its steel construction recalling that of the Bascule bridge. At the extremity of the long arm of the crane is a two-story car with a seating capacity for 100 persons and standing room for 20 more. At the short end of the crane is a giant mass of concrete, which serves as a counter-balance for the long arm of the crane. Beneath the car are two great water tanks, which take on water or discharge it as passengers enter or leave the car, thus always preserving the balance to a nicety. When, for example, a man weighing 160 pounds enters the car an amount of water of equal weight is released from the tank, and when the passenger departs 160 pounds of water are automatically discharged into the tank below the car. The car ascends without perceptible motion, and perfect safety and a jarring ride of ten minutes is assured to passengers while enjoying this trip of 265 feet into the clouds, or four feet higher than the Ferris wheel. Two motors control the ascent and descent in conjunction with the counter-balance of the huge car, and when it reaches its extreme height it begins to swing slowly around on the wheels at its base, giving a magnificent view of the exposition, of San Francisco bay and of the city of San Francisco.

Various Seats of Memory.

It is seriously doubted, from recent researches, that the memory resides in any particular tissue such as the brain, the ganglion cells or the nerves. ABSTINENCE FOR ALL EMPLOYEES

Henry Stauffer Says Firms Are Insisting That Men Not Drink

Alcohol And The Employer
Tom. Paine's tract "The Crisis" published at the beginning of our Revolutionary War begins with these thrilling words: "These are the times that try men's souls."

Regarding the present nation-wide fight against alcohol we too have come to times that severely test our manhood. The arguments for total abstinence are simply unanswerable from every standpoint and are growing stronger every day. If the drink question could be solved by a straight appeal to reason it would have been settled right long ago. Put custom, appetite, inherited delusions and profits are all involved in the solution of the problem. The employer is fast being driven to the point where he is compelled to demand total abstinence on the part of his employees. This is due partly to the fact that he has by actual experience found that other things being equal, a total abstainer is worth about 10 per cent more than a drinking man; and it is partly due to the passage of the Wisconsin compensation law which was passed by our legislature two years ago. And just here is where the shoe pinches; a drinking employer with a conscience and a sense of the fitness of things, finds it very awkward, embarrassing to continue to indulge his appetite for alcohol while he himself insists that those who work for him shall abstain for the good of the firm and for the benefit of society. I do not see how a pastor can possibly urge his congregation to abstain, while he himself refuses to mount the water wagon. Nor can I see how an employer can consistently urge his employees to abstain while he himself refuses to do so, to his own detriment.

I am glad so many of the industrial leaders of the state are becoming deeply interested in the temperance movement; for their attitude, sympathy and approval means much to their workmen and to society; and will greatly hasten the time when this nation shall be rid of the drink curse.

The rising demand for efficiency in every department of life is compelling business men to re-examine the temperance movement. The vice-president of one of the large Pittsburgh Iron Works recently said: "Our Company could have afforded to pay its employees a quarter of a million dollars more than their wages during the period that Billy Sunday worked among them." When asked why he made so strong a statement, he replied as follows: "Because of the increased efficiency of the men. They are steadier. Accidents decreased remarkably. They produced enough extra steel to make their work worth the quarter million additional. Billy Sunday got our men on the water wagon. The men themselves realize what a difference it makes. They are strong for prohibition. If the people of Pittsburgh and its vicinity could vote on the temperance question today, the saloons would be wiped out."

"The manufacturers are strong for prohibition too. They never gave much thought to the matter before."

day has made us all strong for prohibition. We know that the most of our accidents are due to whiskey. For years we have been trying to find a way to secure a high degree of efficiency among our men. We never succeeded. Along came this preacher and accomplishes more in a few weeks than we have ever been able to do. We know now that "until booze is banished, we can never have really efficient workmen." We are fools if we don't profit by what he has shown us. Take it from me; booze has got to go. We are not interested in the moral side of the matter as such. It is purely a matter of dollars and cents.

"From this time forth corporations are going to show mighty little soul toward the man who drinks." The frank, utilitarian utterances of this man may be called the new creed of industry on the drink habit, and as such, it is immensely significant. In the matter of prohibiting employees from the use of liquor, the P. A. R. C. Co. has taken the lead. Of its army of 125,000 employees, very few of them ever touch liquor. During 1913 the company's spotters made 784,675 "observations" and found only 158 men who were violating its rule against drink.

In conversation with the vice-president of the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. last summer, he said to me; prohibition is coming and it can't come too soon for me. I drank my last glass of liquor thirty years ago. At the Union League Club, Chicago, very few men now take liquor with their noonday luncheon.

The present agitation on the effects of alcohol is deeply moving many of the citizens of Rhinelander and is bringing a moral crisis to all employers of labor. What will they say and do about it? Will they say: "Boys get on the water wagon. It is the only safe course for your selves; it is the best course for your families, for our business and for society?" Or will they be heretofore enough to say: "Come men, let us cut out drink. That is the only safe course for us all; and it is decidedly the best for business and society as well?" Will the employers of this city choose the noble way of self-denial, and so accept the task and glory of moral leadership at this auspicious time? Certain it is that this heroic course will mean vastly more to them and their children than great success in money making.

I earnestly hope that all those to whom has come great financial strength and the heavy responsibilities that go with it, will put first those things which in the very nature of things are first, in importance. In our best moments we are all moved to choose the way of safety and of the highest physical and moral efficiency. Total Abstinence First—Efficiency and Safety Follow.

HENRY STAUFFER,
Director, Efficiency Institute.

Relieving Headache.
Headaches caused by worry or exhaustion may be relieved by very simple means. If possible, put on loose clothing, loosen the hair and supply yourself with a bowl of hot water and several towels. Wet the towels in the hot water and apply back of the ears, and to the base of the brain. Change these often and you will soon find relief. A hot foot bath hastens the process.

First English Newspaper.
The first newspaper printed in the English language, with its old English type and its quaint account of events in foreign countries, was a pamphlet issued in 1621. Its title, "Corant or Nerves From Italie, Germany, France and Other Places," is as curious as its contents. For many years it had been supposed that no copy of the Corant was in existence but recently a copy of this interesting document was discovered.—Exchange.

DAIRY FACTS

COWS FRESHEN IN THE FALL
Milk Flow Kept Up for Longer Period and Produced During the Season of High Prices.

(By W. FREEHOFF, Wisconsin.)
For cows to freshen twice a year really sounds like nature faking, but that is just what happens to cows that freshen in the fall.

Good feeding and careful attention keep up a large flow of milk all winter; then in the spring when the green herbage comes the rule, again the manufacture of milk receives a fresh stimulus.

Thus by fall freshening the milk flow is not only kept up for a longer period of time than would otherwise be the case, but the most milk is produced during the season of highest prices. In this lies the chief superiority of winter over summer dairying.

Cows that freshen in the spring dry up quickly in the fall when the grass is no longer present; few farmers take good care of a dry cow during the winter so that the next year the animal will be still less useful. Such deterioration in a cow is often greater than the entire value of her milk products.

Then again, the cows need most protection during the summer months when labor may be used to better advantage in the fields, while during the winter months no labor can find employment. Summer dairying has absolutely nothing to commend it.

Feed is about the same price in the summer as in the winter, while winter labor is cheaper; this, with the increased price for winter products makes winter dairying by far the more profitable.

SUMMER FEEDING FOR COWS

To Overcome Short and Dry Pastures Animals Should Be Given Forage With Some Grain.

Pasture is one of the essentials of successful dairy farming, but must not be depended upon blindly as the only source of the cow's feed during the entire growing season. Given the proper chance to make a good growth of grass during the early spring season before the herd is turned upon it, the cows will usually get enough food from the pasture alone for a few weeks of the late spring and early summer season to fully maintain their condition and milk flow, but later will often go hungry and fall off both in body condition and milk flow because the pastures become dry and short. To overcome this the cows should be fed either green forage or silage with some grain.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN NEARBY TOWNS

Park Falls—
Horace Halverson, aged 8, was drowned in the Flambeau river when he fell into the water from a rock on which he stood while fishing. Shortly before the accident one of the employees at the pulp mill opened a couple of gates in the dam and the water below raised so quickly that the boy was swept from the rock to his death. The body was recovered until twenty-four hours later.

Ashland—
Northland College, one of the leading educational institutions of northern Wisconsin, was destroyed by fire Thursday morning. The fire broke out in the upper parts of the building and within a short time had turned down as far as the second floor before being extinguished. The structure and its contents are almost a total loss. It is stated that the college will be rebuilt.

Grandon—
Five Laona boys, ranging in age from 17 to 19 years, were arrested a few days ago on the charge of placing obstructions on the North-western tracks near Laona. Before Justice Bastian the boys pleaded guilty and were bound over to circuit court for trial and their bonds

You Make Friends By Recommending A Reliable Kidney Medicine

Your representative called at my door yesterday meaning to leave a sample of your noted Swamp-Root and I am certainly pleased to see anybody connected with the firm who makes a medicine which has done so much for me and my family. A few years ago I was suffering from a terrible pain in my back and when I was up around the house I had to walk with my body bent nearly double. If you had placed a thousand dollars above my head I could not straighten up to get it.

Hearing of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I sent you for a sample bottle and from the effects of that small amount I was sure it would help me so I bought one bottle and it has cured me.

Shortly after that my husband who was a coal miner, was suffering from kidney trouble and could not work and I sent for some of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. He was in a terrible condition, but as the doctors had not given me any relief, I had more faith in Swamp-Root and it was well founded, for it did the work and after taking a few bottles he was completely cured.

I daily recommend the use of Swamp-Root to my friends and neighbors.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. JOHN NORDQUIST,
Galeton, Penna.
Sworn and subscribed to before me this 14th day of May, 1912.
W. D. ALLEN, J. P.

Letter to
Dr. Kilmer & Co.,
Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You
Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the name of this paper. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

fixed at $300 each.

Ladysmith—
The board of trustees of the M. E. church has purchased the site for the new church about to be erected in this city. The edifice is to cost about $12,000 and will be one of the largest and most artistic in this part of the state.

Washburn—
Business men of Washburn are jubilant over the announcement of the DuPont Powder company to the effect that a new triton line will be built at the dynamite works near this city this summer. A new battery of boilers must also be added to the monster power plant of the company to furnish the needed power and new acid recovery plant to furnish the acid. An enlargement through the entire plant will result from the work to be done this summer. About 400 men are now employed at the company's plant and the lowest wages paid is $2.53 per day.

Marquette—
Through the co-operation of Marquette county banks, the Marquette County Advancement association and the Stephenson Agricultural school, a large number of pure bred and registered cattle are being introduced into Marquette county by what is known as "the Ashland plan." It is in effect a plan by which blooded cattle are brought into the county in carload lots and the farmers are allowed to pay for them in three years instead of at the time of the purchase. The cattle purchased so far have been selected from districts near Waukesha and Grand Rapids, both in Wisconsin. All farmers who have obtained cattle under the co-operative plan to date are very well pleased with the stock they have received. The general use of the plan by Marquette county farmers will soon, it is believed, make exceptionally good dairy stock.

GOES TO OSHKOSH

Father Vaughan, vicar of the Church of the Ascension in this city, was tendered a farewell surprise at the vicarage Tuesday evening by his parishioners and friends, numbering about eighty. Cards and dancing were the diversion of the evening followed by a substantial luncheon at the close of the festivities.

As a memento of the occasion, and a mark of esteem of those present, the guest of honor was presented with a fine leather traveling bag and numerous good wishes for his future success and happiness.

Father Vaughan departed today for Oshkosh, to become vicar of Christ church in that city.—Merrill Advocate.

MRS. MILES' OBITUARY

Mrs. R. D. Miles passed away early Tuesday morning, April 20th, at St. Mary's hospital after a lingering illness of several months from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Miles was born Aug. 20, 1872, in Rudolph, Wis. Mrs. Miles leaves six children to mourn her, five girls and one boy, the oldest 19 years and youngest 4 years old. She also leaves four sisters, Mrs. C. Ratelle and Mrs. E. J. McDowell, Portland, Ore., Mrs. W. J. Reilly of Harrison, Ark., and Mrs. Frank Polebetski of this city; and three brothers, M. J. Ratelle of Camino, Cal., and Messrs. N. G. Ratelle and A. Ratelle of Rudolph, Wis.

Mrs. Miles was a member of the M. B. A. and Rebecca lodges. Mrs. Miles lost her husband in 1908 and during all these years until her last illness she succeeded in making a happy and comfortable home for her children. The funeral was held from St. Mary's church Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Requiem mass was said by Father Fagan for the repose of her soul. The out of town relatives who could be at the funeral were N. G. Ratelle and wife of Rudolph, Wis. Mrs. Lina Ratelle of Loyal, Wis., and Mrs. W. J. Reilly of Harrison, Ark., who did not know her sister had passed away, until her arrival for she had come to visit her. Mrs. Miles was laid away by the side of her husband at her request, in Forest Home cemetery.

To the bereaved children and other relatives deepest sympathy is extended.

CHAMBERLAIN'S LINIMENT

This preparation is intended especially for rheumatism, lame back, sprains and like ailments. It is a favorite with people who are well acquainted with its splendid qualities. Mrs. Charles Tanner, Washburn, Ind., says of it, "I have found Chamberlain's Liniment the best thing for lame back and sprains I have ever used. It works like a charm and relieves pain and soreness. It has been used by others of the family as well as myself for upwards of twenty years." 25 and 50 cent bottles. For sale by All Dealers.

One Chinese province exports more than 150,000 tons of peanuts annually, all because an American missionary 20 years ago gave to a native convert a quart of seed.

SUES SMO LINE

Because the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Seattle Sta. Marie Railroad Co. carried her seven miles beyond her destination, Sarah LeBeau of Goodman has instituted a suit for damages in the sum of $5000, and the case will be tried at the coming session of circuit court, says the Mari nette Eagle-Star.

The plaintiff's claim is that on Jan. 1st, she boarded a Soo train at Goodman, with a ticket to Gladstone. She alleges that the conductor failed to call at the station, and she was carried on to Masonville, seven miles beyond. No train back could be had for more than twelve hours, and meanwhile urgent business claimed her presence in Gladstone.

Accordingly, the complaint, says the plaintiff was forced to walk to Gladstone in a heavy storm, and owing to the exposure and the fact that she is rather delicate, had caught a cold and is still suffering from the effects of the exposure.

A RHINELANDER MAN GIVES EVIDENCE

His Testimony Will Interest Every Rhinelander Reader

The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the Rhinelander papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Rhinelander people that will not be easily shaken.

Oliver Shorey, stationary engineer, 725 Margaret St., Rhinelander, says, "I was bothered a great deal by lame back and pains across my loins. I had been in this shape for some time, but I was troubled mostly while at work. My back was so stiff and lame that it hurt me to stoop or lift and I was also annoyed by kidney weakness. Finally someone advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did. They cured me and I have never had any sign of kidney trouble since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Shorey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

O. H. Knuts was in Antigo on business Friday.

Mrs. Emmel Kloes of Three Lakes was a city visitor Monday.

Robert Robertson, the newly elected city clerk, assumed the duties of his office Saturday. Gust Swedberg, the retiring clerk, has made no plans for the future but has special city work to do which will keep him busy for several weeks.

ONCE VISITED RHINELANDER

Charles E. Littlefield, former representative in congress from Maine, died Sunday in a New York hospital following an operation. Mr. Littlefield once visited Rhinelander as the guest of Hon. W. E. Brown and while here met a number of the business men. He leaves a wife and daughter.

SICK HEADACHE

Mrs. A. L. Luckie, East Rochester, N. Y., was a victim of sick headache and dizziness, caused by the badly weakened and debilitated condition of her stomach, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She says, "I found them pleasant to take, also mild and effective. In a few weeks' time I was restored to my former good health." For sale by All Dealers.

REAL ESTATE

Upper Wisconsin Lands
Rhinelander, Wis.

IT'S a double-riveted cinch to get tobacco satisfaction from the Real Tobacco Chew. All the good of the rich tobacco—and a small chew satisfies.

Next to getting it themselves the thing men like best is to tell a friend about the Real Tobacco Chew.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED, RIGHT CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. (That's why it costs less in the end.) The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

Deserving Crown of Patience.
The crown of patience cannot be refused where there has been no suffering. HOW A DEEP SEATED COUGH

And Sore Lungs Were Overcome by Vinol—Mr. Hillman's Statement of Facts Follows:

Camden, N. J.—"I had a deep seated cough, a run-down system and my lungs were awfully weak and sore. I am an electrician by occupation and my cough kept me awake nights so I thought at times I would have to give up. I tried everything everybody suggested and had taken so much medicine I was disgusted."

"One evening I read about Vinol and decided to give it a trial. Soon I noticed an improvement. I kept on taking it and today I am a well man. The soreness is all gone from my lungs, I do not have any cough and have gained fifteen pounds in weight and I am telling my friends that Vinol did it."—FRANK HILLMAN, Camden, N. J.

It is the curative, tissue-building influence of cods' livers aided by the blood-making, strength creating properties of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, that made it so successful in Mr. Hillman's case.

We ask every person in this vicinity suffering from weak lungs, chronic coughs, or a run-down condition of the system to try a bottle of Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if it fails to help you.

Explaining "Memory."

When you speak of others as having a good memory, you do not mean that at all. Instead of meaning that the man with a "good memory" has accurately perceived an event in the full ramifications of all its details, and recorded it in his whole human texture ready for reproduction at will, what you really indicate is that he has good power of retention, irrespective of detailed accuracy or faithfulness of the full recollection.—Dr. Leonard Keese Hirshberg.

THE BATTLE OF ARMAGEDDON.

REVELATION refers in figurative language to the "Battle of Armageddon." The above picture embodies an interpretation some Bible scholars give to the passage, for they believe it alludes to a conflict of social and financial interests among men, culminating in a great cataclysm. They believe Jesus to have referred to the same climax in the world's history when He said: "For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, nor ever shall be."

The promoters of "Creation" have every reason to claim that their pictures portray the greatest drama that the world has seen, because it is the story of the world itself. From star nebula to perfection the history of creation is told as it has been revealed to scientists and to students of the Bible, and prophecies of the Scriptures are used to reach conclusions regarding the future, which are, to say the least, not a little startling. The theory underlying the whole story is that each of the seven days composing the creative week was an epoch seven thousand years in length, which makes the full week of creation equivalent to 49,000 years; that man appeared toward the close of the sixth epoch; that we are now living in the seventh day; and that as 6,000 years have passed since the creation of Adam, the Millennium, which is to close the seventh epoch, is near at hand. It is with this last "day" of 7,000 years that the pictures mainly deal; however, the gradual transformation of the earth is traced from a gaseous confusion to a proper condition to support human life; and then follows the old story of the fall of man, with all its consequent miseries, hopes, joys and fears.

The World in Epitome Shown by Displays in the Vast Exhibit Palaces at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Today the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco is being widely exploited throughout the world by the millions of sight-seers who have visited the exposition since its opening on February 20th last as the most beautiful, comprehensive and interesting universal exposition that the world has ever known. The wonderful exhibit palaces house the treasures of the earth, while the grounds, planted to millions of rare bulbs, are a gorgeous mass of color and fragrance. To the visitor entering the gates for the first time, either by night or day, the scene is certain to hold the newcomer spellbound, as the vast panorama unfolds bit by bit before the gaze and the eye wanders from one beauty spot to another in an endless chain of amazing surprises. Entering the main gate at Scott street, for instance, the visitor sees the great Fountain of Energy directly before him, its giant sprays sparkling and flashing in the light of the warm California sun by day, or assuming the appearance of masses of flowing flames by night under the powerful beams of the great batteries of searchlights trained upon this work of art. As the spell is lifted the eye falls upon the Tower of Jewels, the great center piece of the exposition, and again attention is arrested until the eye has conquered the dizzy heights of this gem-studded tower, every cornice and figure sending forth its share of dazzling lights.

The world's advance in all branches of art, science and industry is amazingly portrayed in the exhibits. Among the electrical exhibits, for example, is the Audion amplifier, invented by Lee De Forest. Through this invention the visitor in the Liberal Arts palace is enabled to converse over the long distance telephone with his relatives at the farthest section of the Atlantic coast and may hear the voice of the speaker in greater volume than was actually given into the transmitting telephone. The intensity of the sound is increased by passing through heat waves. Today it is possible for an orator in New York city to address through the telephone a large audience at San Francisco, the sound being increased so that it is of power great enough to fill a large hall. This single advance in the development of the telephone is paralleled in hundreds of other lines. The railroads have made low round trip rates and ample and reasonable accommodations are to be had in San Francisco and the adjoining cities.

J. N. WHITE BURIED AT COLBY FRIDAY

Jerome N. White, whose departure from this life occurred Wednesday night, April 28, at the family home on Thayer street after an illness extending over three years, was one of Rhinelander's oldest and most highly esteemed residents. He was a clean living man, who possessed many admirable traits of character which won him lasting friendships. In his business dealings with the public he adhered strictly to the golden rule and honesty was regarded as one of his greatest assets. Mr. White had a kind heart and a friend or neighbor in need of aid always received his attention.

Mr. White became a resident of Rhinelander sixteen years ago last November and for nearly five years was manager for the old Curtis Lumber company. Twelve years ago he embarked in the mercantile business on Thayer street and was in charge of the store until poor health forced him to retire three years ago. Since then his son, Kirk White, has been in charge of the business. Deceased was 73 years of age and is survived by a wife, three daughters, Della, Rachael and Mabel and two sons, Kirk and Roy White. All live in this city with the exception of Roy.

The remains were taken to Colby Friday morning and the funeral was held there that afternoon under the auspices of the Masonic lodge of which Mr. White was an ardent member.

PRISON PLANT IS STILL RUNNING

The story recently given wide publication in the press of the state that Governor Philipp had ordered closed the Minder twine plant of the Wauson prison is denied by Rev. Daniel Woodward, warden at the prison. Mr. Woodward sends the following letter to the New North: Wauson, Wis., April 28th, 1915.

The New North,
Rhinelander, Wis.

Gentlemen:—The report has been published that Governor Philipp closed down the operation of the binder twine plant at the Wisconsin State prison, and in reply, I desire to state that there is absolutely no truth to the statement, for the plant has not been closed down, nor has there been any such thought.

Not only has the plant been operated at its fullest capacity to date, but we have in our warehouse a very large quantity of fibre, and will, May 1st, a double shift will be put on and the plant will be operated night and day to the close of the season.

Thanking you in advance for publishing the above statement in full, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
DANIEL WOODWARD, Warden.

HURT IN RUNAWAY

Mr. and Mrs. Gahlerd Hatfield and Miss Annabelle Anderson, who were hurt in a runaway accident in Peabine Sunday are recovering from their injuries at the home of Andrew Anderson.

KNOWN TO OLD RESIDENTS

Frank Wheeler, who a number of years ago held a position with one of the lumber companies here, died Saturday in Parish. Early residents of the city will remember him. The body was taken to Wauson for interment.

feated by the Monico Pirates here Sunday afternoon in an exciting ten inning game. The score was 11-12. Both teams played a rather ragged fielding game at times, but they offset this with their heavy hitting. It was a slugfests match from start to finish with the Pirates having the edge on the Rhinelander lads.

The game was fast in spite of the fact that it was the first of the season for both teams.

We wish to give the Rhinelander boys credit for being a set of good sportsmen and would like to see our boys play as good ball games throughout the season as they did Sunday.

The Pirates would like to hear from any 14 to 16 year old team in the county. Address, Ned Nichols, Manager, Monico, Wis.
